Association of Psychologists in Nepal (APN) stands in solidarity with the National Psychological Association of Ukraine and the people of Ukraine. We strongly condemn the Russian military inhuman towards Ukrainian people. As psychologists we all know very well the scar left by this war is so deep down within people affects their mental health and their quality of life lasts over generations. We support all the Psychological Associations, Societies, and with the Global Psychology Alliance colleagues who are against this war and extend their services to humanity.
